

IMMIGRATION.

It Will be Encouraged in Every Possible Way—Workers at the Capital.

The cause of immigration into this state is being looked after most zealously by the Southwestern Immigration society, and the following delegation went to Jefferson City yesterday to present their claims to the legislature: Harvey W. Salmon, Clinton, president; J. K. Gwynn, Versailles, secretary; W. O. Cox, of Kansas City, and Frank Childs, of Schell City, members of the board. Mr. W. W. Wagner, of Jefferson City, is also a member of the board. Mr. Gwynn has prepared a bill which will be introduced in the legislature at an early date. The bill provides, among other things, for the creating of a department of immigration and the office of commissioner of the same. The salary of the commissioner is fixed at $3,000 per year. The office is made appointive to be filled by the Governor, for a term of four years. He shall encourage immigration to the state of industrious and intelligent farmers, manufacturers, mechanics, tradesmen by every means within his power. He shall encourage the organization of immigration and improvement societies in the several counties and towns of the State shall collect and publish such information as he may be able to obtain relative to the agricultural, horticultural, mineral and manufacturing resources of the State. The bill provides for an appropriation of $20,000 per annum for the support of the department.

ULYSSES AND DORA.

Ulysses is on Trial by Jury for Abandoning Dora.

About a year ago Ulysses Simpson Thomas was arrested and brought before Justice Milo Blair, on the charge of seduction under promise of marriage. The complainant was Dora Maguire, daughter of A. J. Maguire, who lives several miles north of Sedalia. She was young, good-looking and why the namesake of the hero of Appomattox wanted to desert her is something that no fellow can find out. But in order to keep from going to the pen under the statutes in such cases, made and provided, he agreed to marry Dora and the good old Justice glad to get rid of a troublesome and delicate case, tied the knot then and there which made Dora and Ulysses man and wife in name as they already were, in fact. It was supposed that the trouble would end there, but it did not. Thomas refused to live with his bride or support her. He has kept this up for several long, weary months, and Dora, now the mother of a bouncing kid, has grown weary of waiting for the joy of married life. She filed a complaint before Justice Blair last week, charging her truant lord with desertion. The trial was set for to-day. The first move out of the box was an application by the defendant Thomas for a change of venue. The case was sent over to Justice Halstead, where it is on trial this afternoon before a jury of six men. Dora Thomas is present in court with her child, and is represented by Capt. L. L. Bridges. The defendant, Thomas, is represented by Henry Lamm.

The jury in the case of the state vs. Ulysses Grant Thomas, charged with deserting his wife, last evening brought in a verdict assessing his punishment at $1000 and six months in the county jail. He took an appeal and gave bond for his appearance at criminal court. It is thought that the case will be compromised by Thomas consenting to live with and support his wife and child.

A Missouri Boy's Talent.
Another Kansas City boy has dropped into a good and well merited situation. Mr. Charles Johnson, son of Mr. Ben. F. Johnson, the well known grain dealer has been offered a situation as artist for Harper's Weekly, beginning July 1, at a salary of $10,000 per year. The young man is scarcely 23 years of age, but is already one of the best known artists in the country. When at home he illustrated articles in Kansas City for eastern papers. Less than a year ago he went to New York, where his work brought him speedy notice and profit. The only instruction he ever received previous to entering the New York academy was in Kansas City. He is well known in Sedalia, especially among the newspaper fraternity, who will join in congratulations.

—Mother! stop your child's cough! Dr. J. H. McLean's Tar Wine Lung Balm will give immediate relief, is agreeable to take, and a positive cure. 25 cents a bottle.

The Fall Races.

As announced several days ago a committee was appointed by the directory of the Pettis county fair association to prepare a speed programme for the fall meeting to be held at this city. The object in getting out the programme at such an early date was in order that it might be incorporated in the racing programme of the entire circuit. The committee has made the following report which was adopted last evening by the board of directors.

Tuesday—Gent's roadster, $50; mile race $15; 2 year old trot, $40.
Wednesday—Great interstate 20 mile race between Topeka, Kan., and Sedalia; three-year old trot, $75.
Thursday—Free for all trot, $400; 2:35 class pace, $300; one-half mile heats, $75.
Friday—2:37 trot, $300; 2:50 trot, $300; three-quarter-mile dash, $75.
Saturday—Free-for-all pace, $400; 2:29 trot, $300; mile dash, $75.

A TERRIBLE KICK

From a Vicious Stallion Kills W. A. Pray of Eldorado.

A gentleman who came up from Eldorado yesterday gives the particulars of the death of Mr. W. A. Pray a few days ago of the Pray farm near Eldorado and who was known to several residents of this city.

It seems he and his father-in-law, M. Pemberton and Mr. Geary, of Eldorado, had purchased eight head of horses from Lexington, Ill. Six of them were stallions and two fillies. Mr. Geary came with the car of horses, and arrived at Nevada early in the evening. Arrangements had been made by Mr. Pray, during the day, to stable the animals at McRay Bros' stable in Nevada.

On the arrival of the car a telephone message called Mr. Pray and M. Pemberton and James Pemberton to the stock yards. They solicited W. D. McRay to accompany them and took him with them.

The three large stallions were taken off and Mr. McRay took one, Mr. Geary one and Mr. Pray another. The two Messrs. Pemberton remained at the pens with the other animals while the large stallions were started for the stable. Mr. Pray was in the lead with the large black Norman. The animal showed considerable life and Pray was constantly talking to him on the way up town, and praising it for its beauty and fine action. At two different times on the way the animal took fright and shied.

While in front of the Duck block Mr. Pray's horse shied at the waves of the electric light, reared up and jumped to one side. The sudden lunge jerked Mr. Pray off his balance and towards the horse. The animal made another lunge, drawing the halter rein through Pray's hand to the button, and then jerked him down and dragged him south to the street railway track, where he lay on his face. Here the animal reared up and made three vicious kicks, the last one striking Mr. Pray on the head.

When Mr. Pray fell, it appeared as if a coat had fallen from the horse, and bystanders did not know it was the form of a man, until after the animal had struck him the fatal blow with his ponderous hind foot.

When the horse had freed himself, he went a few steps away, then turned as if he would again go over his victim, but went to the other horse in a perfectly docile manner.

Those who went to Pray's assistance, found him with his head and shoulders lying across the street railway track, face downward, and almost buried in the fresh gravel. He was scarcely breathing when they went to him and turned him over. Then he began to show signs of life and they carried him into the office of Hotel Mitchell and thence to the sample room, where better attention could be given him. He breathed harder then, but showed no other signs of life, and being taken to the residence of his father-in-law, in Nevada, died Tuesday morning. The funeral took place yesterday.

The Love That Lives.

"Youth fades, love droops, the leaves of friendship fall—
A mother's secret hope outlives them all."

She will not believe her dimpled darling must die. The baby eyes look to her for help—and there is help. Hasten to the nearest druggist and procure Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and your child may be restored, for it cures consumption, which is only Scrofula of the Lungs, if taken in time, as readily as it cures scrofula affecting other parts and organs. Don't delay.

HOW IT LOOKS.

A Republican Newspaper's Views On the recent Labor Convention.

The returns from the recent monkey and parrot disunion labor committee are beginning to come in. The Clinton Advocate after reading the reports of the howling mob says:

From the reports in the Sedalia papers [the Labor Convention held in that city yesterday was not a very harmonious gathering. There was a split, and rival factions talked to each other in a very unseemly manner. A person not knowing that it was a labor meeting would have supposed it to be a gathering of democrats called together to pass the compliments of the season before engaging in a campaign. The BAZOO gives the proceedings and comments editorially on them, whether justly or not, we cannot say. The Gazette lays the blame of all the trouble in the Labor camp on Filley and the wicked republicans, and claims the proceedings clearly show a bargain and sale on the part of a portion of the Labor leaders. The charge that the labor element sold out to the republicans will be news to members of that party in the state. The facts are, so far as we can gather from reports in other papers, the fight was between the rural delegates. The same state of affairs, perhaps not to as large an extent, has been witnessed in a convention of the democratic party in this state."

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Sharp—Lane.

The wedding of Miss Eliza Sharp and Mr. Isaac Lane, a well known railroad employe, took place last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Doty in East Sedalia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Fuller of the First Baptist church in the presence of about thirty guests. After the ceremony choice refreshments of cake, fruits, wine, coffee etc., were served and the occasion was an exceedingly pleasant one. Mr. and Mrs. Lane were made the recipients of quite a number of beautiful and appropriate presents.

An Old Soldier.

Sergeant Green, of Company A, 19th Infantry, of San Antonio, Tex., passed through here to-day en route to Washington, D. C. He has with him Private Marion Mercer, of Company A, consigned to the Soldiers' Home at that point. Mercer in 1862 joined the 16th New York, and served until the war closed. He has been in service ever since, and for nineteen years has been a private of the 10th Infantry. His total term of service was twenty-six years. Four months ago he was stricken with paralysis, and under advice of the medical adviser for this department was billed to the Washington Home. Mercer is old, white-haired, bent and trembling, a mere wreck of a man without a hope, ambition or care in the world save to die somewhere in comfort. It is believed that he was originally from New York, but he has been so long in the army, beaten about from pillar to post, and serving his time first at one frontier point then at another, that all reliable records have been lost. He bears a fair character among his army associates, and seems to have been sober, cleanly and generally anxious to please. He furnished a splendid example of the result of more than a quarter of a century's service in the ranks of Uncle Sam's standing force.

Bound for the Pen.

Deputy Marshal J. B. Ross, of Jackson, accompanied by two guards, passed through the city this morning en route to the penitentiary, having in custody six convicts as follows: William Tappin, sentenced 3 years for burglary.

Walter Russ, sentenced 5 years for burglary.

Henry Collins, sentenced 3 years for burglary.

Thomas Howard, sentenced 3 years for burglary.

James Morris, sentenced 3 years for burglary.

Jeff Stevens, sentenced 2 years for larceny. Stevens is a tough customer and was sentenced to death several years ago for murder but got a new trial and was afterward acquitted.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Mertz and Hale's drug store.

Stole an Irish Buggy.

Marion Mack, a colored man is in duance vile on a charge of stealing a wheelbarrow from S. K. Bullard. The case will be heard before Justice Brady to-morrow morning. Marion claims that some of his enemies stole the wheelbarrow and brought it to his house. "Foah God, boss, I doan know how it cum dah suah," said Marion as he was led away to jail.

Piles, Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most all night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

Died En Route.

The remains of Mrs. W. H. Secrist, wife of a well known passenger conductor of the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska railway, passed through here last night en route to her old home in Terre Haute, Ind. Mrs. Secrist had been suffering for some time from that fell disease, consumption, and died while in the invalid chair at the Union depot, Kansas City. The remains were accompanied by her husband and mother.

The most astonishing, safest and promptest remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs is Dr. J. H. McLean's Tar Wine Lung Balm. 25 cents a bottle.

Sleeping on a Fortune.

There are many inventors who are now sleeping upon a fortune, apparently unaware of its existence, and that it is within their grasp.

The records of the Patent offices presents hundreds of instances where LARGE FORTUNES have been realized from small inventions.

Having an experience of over 20 years in the patent business, I have prepared caveats and secured patents on a large number of valuable inventions. Any one desiring to consult me, I will give them my views as to the patentability of their inventions FREE OF CHARGE. MY TERMS for filing Caveats and preparing applications for patents will be LOW.

THE POOR.

The City Being Imposed Upon By a Class the County Should Care for.

"The city is being terribly imposed upon in this matter of dispensing alms," said a city officer to a BAZOO reporter this morning. Inquiry develops the fact that the county is "laying it onto" the city in a way that ought to be despised. There is the case of the man named Love, in East Sedalia. He has been dying for months with cancer, and the city is virtually supporting him. It is no excuse to say that he refuses to go to the poor farm. The county authorities should take care of him. The city beside paying its proportion of the county poor tax is compelled to take care of such cases.

There is another matter that kicked backward: Some time ago over a dozen parties, white and colored, were arrested in this city for stealing coal from the Missouri Pacific railroad. Several of them were convicted and sent to jail, for terms ranging from ten to twenty days. Officer Kelly informed a BAZOO reporter to-day that the city had been compelled to supply two of the families of these men with provisions and fuel because the supporter of the families were in jail.

The worst feature remains. There is a widow with several children living in East Sedalia. The city was called upon to-day to supply her with some wood. She is in every way worthy of charity. Her husband was a soldier and a prominent G. A. R. of this city. Her father lives in Sedalia and it is said that he is in affluent circumstances, yet he is willing to see his daughter become a dependant upon the city. This is a queer old world.

For all forms of nasal catarrh where there is dryness of the air passage with what is commonly called "stuffed up," especially when going to bed, Ely's Cream Balm gives perfect and immediate relief. Its benefit to me has been priceless.—A. G. Chase, M. D., Millwood, Kansas.

For over eight years I have suffered from catarrh, which has affected my eyes and hearing; have employed many physicians without relief. I am now on my second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, and feel confident of a complete cure.—Mary C. Thompson, Cerro Gordo, Ill.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Sixteenth Union Meeting of the St. Louis Society—A Sketch of the Movement.

The Christian Endeavor society of St. Louis, celebrated its sixteenth anniversary last night. Hymns were sung and letters from Christian Endeavor workers from Kansas City, Sedalia and other places in the state, were read. The St. Louis society is the oldest one in the state. Sedalia societies have only been organized about four years, but much good work has already been done.

The history of the United Society of Christian Endeavor is a wonderful story of growth and progress. Eight years ago F. E. Clark, then pastor of Williston church, Portland, Me., conceived the idea of forming in his church a Young People's Society of Christian endeavor. It was organized with a membership of sixty. Two years later a convention was held at Lowell, Mass., when the total membership was 200. The next place of meeting was Ocean Park and the two succeeding years Saratoga was selected. Last year the convention was held at Chicago, and there were more than five thousand delegates present. There are now in the United States 7,000 societies with an enrolled membership of 400,000, and the movement is extending to every part of the civilized world. St. Louis has over fifty societies.

The next convention will be held in Philadelphia, July 9 to 11 inclusive, and preparations are already being made for the St. Louis and Sedalia delegations to go by special train.
